

THE BRIMMER

TRICK OR TREAT

OCTOBER 2011

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It's RED OCTOBER!!!!!!!

Fall is in the air and the Phightin' Phils are in the postseason once again. As we do each October, we will have Brother Billy Gibbons lead us in a decade of the Rosary at this month's meeting.

It's going to be a busy month around 87. On Saturday, Oct. 15, at 2 p.m. we will host Fr. Sean McManus as he launches his book My American Struggle for Justice in Northern Ireland. This should be a watershed event for the division and we expect to host many guests. So be sure to stop by the club and take it all in.

Our Fall Golf Outing will take place Saturday, Oct. 22, with an 8:30 a.m. shotgun start. The price is $80 and that covers greens fees, cart, sweatshirt and after party (food and draft) back at Binlids. Brother Kieran McGovern is busy squaring everything away and Brother John Jones has been collecting hole sponsorships. The following day (Sun., Oct. 23 – Eagles Bye Week), The Major Degrees of the Order will be offered at the Fireman's Hall at Fifth and Willow Streets. We have a few candidates signed up already. If you have not made your degrees, I urge you to contact me so we can get you on the list. This is an experience that you do not want to miss!

The Port Richmond AOH has a long and storied history with the Leprechauns Sports Association. From its founding until recent times AOH 87 men have been involved in their various programs. On Sunday, Nov. 6, the Leps will celebrate their 50th Anniversary Gala. From the Leprechaun's History:

At the old AOH Div. 87 hall, there were a group of the boys... members who had been kicking around the idea of bringing football back to this neighborhood. It seemed this fine game was fading in Port Richmond and Kensington...which was the best reason to get it going again. On a spring night in 1961, they got together in the old hall on Thompson Street and George McGrath wanted to know what they called those little people in Ireland. Someone said, "Leprechauns." Two or three voices said, "That's it," and that was it. On a hot August evening about 30 little people in polo shirts and dungarees checked in at Richmond and Allegheny. Equipment wasn't much then, one well-worn football, but they knew who they were. When Herbie Smith asked, "Do you know what your name is?" about 30 90-pounders responded, "Yeah the LEPRECHAUNS!!!"

More info inside.

The Hibernian Ball will be on Saturday, Nov. 12. It will start with Mass at Holy

TUG'S TALKIN' HERE

Well, another fun-packed month in and around AOH Division 87. First of all, let's discuss the Annual AOH 87 Softball Classic, which pits the fans of Notre Dame against the fans of Penn State. It was a beautiful Sept. 18 afternoon at the old ball yard. The final score was Penn State 13 and the Irish 9, which makes it four years in a row for the Nits.

According to reports that I read in the National Enquirer, the owner of the aforementioned Fighting Irish, none other than Notre Dame Harvey, himself, is contemplating a change at the helm of the Irish. There is nothing like watching Billy Gibbons calling balls and strikes from the beer cooler, classic stuff! The coach of the Irish, Obie, got pressed into action — that's using the term loosely. But anyway, Don "No" Money played third base for a few hilarious innings, while his cohort, Mo, pitched everyone inside in an obvious attempt to create havoc down the third baseline, including a dive at a line drive that had not only passed him, but the left fielder was throwing the ball back to the infield when Obie attempted his swan dive. He did make a face save on a grounder, then threw a shot put over to first, retrieved his circa 1970 knee brace from his truck and attempted to wear it, but the brace fell down to his ankle and it looked like he was under house arrest! For his efforts, Obie was named the 2011 winner of the MVPete Award, which is given each year to a deserving player. The vote in the press box was unanimous. Look for the game, next year, a not to be missed event!

In other news, Tigger in an attempt to put Pat Dever out of business is selling "your fault insurance." If you park behind his truck in the backyard on a Saturday night, it's your fault! Kieran purchased the first policy and had to climb over the console from the passenger side because his driver's door wouldn't open!

Our Webmaster — no Tigger, I said web — John Jones, at a recent party on the second floor around the anniversary of 9/11, felt compelled to have everyone join him in saying the "Pledge of Allegiance." He started out with, "I Pledge Allegiance under the stars," then attempted to incorporate God Bless America, The Star Spangled Banner and North's alma mater into his patriotic moment. Luckily there was a former Marine in the house, Tony Donohue, who grabbed the mike and brought some normalcy to the room. Jonesy blames the moment on some guy named Jack, I think his last name was Daniels. Jonesy is available for appearances. You can reach him thru our very good website www.aoh87.com which is always up to date and very informative.

Jerry Murphy spent a very nice wedding anniversary with Albanian, Nicky Wheeler and the rest of the Murphy Clan at Binlids watching the Phillies game, when he received a call telling him that it was his anniversary!

P.S.: If anyone besides Nicky knows where Albania is, please inform Jack Cassidy. Speaking of Jack "Obarka" Cassidy, the proud El Presidente of the neighborhood dog park, he recently received a purebred dog free of charge. So far, the vet bills for that dog have amounted to over $3,000. Anyone want a "free dog?"

A shout-out to Hawk and Smitty from AOH Division 39, who purchase our newsletter from a newsstand at Cottman and Torresdale. It seems that our illustrious editor Bill has a side business scalping editions of the Brimmer to his followers at the NE Times, both of them!

When last seen at Irish Weekend, Jimmy Smith and Obie were in a deep conversation, then they made "last call!"

That's All Folks,

Tug

Philadelphia Launch of Fr. Mc Manus' Memoirs

Fr. Sean Mc Manus, President of the Capitol Hill-based Irish National Caucus, will hold the Philadelphia launch of his book, My American Struggle for Justice in Northern Ireland on Saturday, October 15, at 2 PM in the Port Richmond AOH Hall, Division 87 2171 Wakeling Street Philadelphia, PA 19124.

Fr. Mc Manus will speak and sign books, which will be sold at the event. The book (published by Collins Press, Cork) is available Online. Go to: www.Irishnationalcaucus.org and click "Buy Now".

To order by MAIL send to: Fr. Sean Mc Manus, PO Box 15128, Washington, DC 20003-0849. $30 for your signed copy, postage included. (Signed copies are only available from Fr. Mc Manus.) If paying by check, make check payable to Fr. Sean Mc Manus.

This book is being hailed as "a classic", "a masterpiece", "a must-read" and "a hugely important book". The Washington Irish Committee has stated: "It is probably the most significant Memoirs in the historiography of Irish-American nationalism since Recolections of an Irish Rebel by John Devoy (1929)."

The President of Division 87, Jim Lockhart, said: "We are honored to host Fr. Mc Manus, who has played such an outstanding role in getting the U.S. Congress to stand up for human rights, justice and peace in Ireland. We must give this great man a wonderful welcome and show our deep appreciation for his 40-year struggle for Irish justice. And we must do everything we can to promote his Memoirs, which is the perfect tool for advancing and reinvigorating the Irish cause in America".

"Fr. Mc Manus, from his Capitol Hill office, has been a prominent and influential figure in the quest for progress and peace with justice in Northern Ireland ... His has been a unique role. Long may it continue."

– Ray O'Hanlon, Editor, Irish Echo

"Fr. Sean Mc Manus is a man to be reckoned with when it comes to advocating causes. His espousal of the MacBride Principles back in the 1980s caused fits for the British government ... Mc Manus has also been a constant watchdog in Washington on Irish affairs and has been hugely successful in setting the Irish-American agenda over the past 30 years."

– Niall O'Dowd, Editor, Irish Voice

"As National President of the AOH, and a native of Northern Ireland, I salute Father Mc Manus for his past 40 years of diligent work for peace and reconciliation in Northern Ireland."

– Seamus Boyle, National President, AOH

ABOUT FR. SEAN MCMANUS, AUTHOR

Co. Dublin, Ireland — 04 Apr. 2011 — For almost forty years, Fr. Sean McManus has been at the heart of the Irish-American campaign against injustice in Northern Ireland. My American Struggle for Justice in Northern Ireland is his personal account of how he mainstreamed Northern Ireland on Capitol Hill, after Church and State exiled him from Britain to silence him on the issue in 1972.

For almost forty years, Fr. Sean McManus has been at the heart of the Irish-American campaign against injustice in Northern Ireland. My American Struggle for Justice in Northern Ireland is his personal account of how he mainstreamed Northern Ireland on Capitol Hill, after Church and State exiled him from Britain to silence him on the issue in 1972. There, he founded the Irish National Caucus, “the driving force that would diminish Britain’s influence with the US government”. He forced through Congressional action to stop the sale of US weapons to the RUC and made the MacBride Principles on fair employment a powerful force. All this time he was opposed not only by the London and Dublin governments but also - and ironically and inexplicably by elements in the Republican Movement.

In 1958, when he was 14, Sean McManus’ eldest brother, Patrick, died when an IRA bomb he was transporting exploded prematurely. Since then he has been haunted by the Troubles. As a Northern Ireland Catholic priest he has gone on to break one of the biggest taboos in Britain, speaking out as an Irish priest to criticise Her Majesty’s government regarding Northern Ireland. In 1972, the outspoken, controversial and justice-seeking priest was exiled from the UK Catholic Church for criticising Her Majesty’s Government. He travelled to America where his life-long struggle for Northern Ireland justice began.

In 1974 Sean took over the British Embassy in a non-violent protest, pouring blood over the inside walls. He was arrested and spent the night in prison. Later that same year, attempting to break the U.S. media silence on Northern Ireland, Sean briefly took over ABC national news in Washington and made his own announcement. He set up the Irish National Caucus on Capitol Hill, the leading US initiative in setting the Irish American agenda on the Northern Ireland issue and began to exert significant American pressure for justice in Ireland.

As an independent lobbyist McManus fought to get the US Congress to stand up for justice and peace in Northern Ireland. For his efforts, he faced demonization, systematic attacks and became an enemy of almost every interested party imaginable. Facing opposition from not only the London Government but also the Dublin Government, the IRA, Sinn Fein and others only served to motivate him more.

McManus’ success in getting Jimmy Carter to break the ‘hands-off’ Northern Ireland policy only served to antagonise the Dublin Government who tried to make Carter back off entirely. In 1977 the INC initiated the formation of the Ad Hoc Congressional Committee for Irish Affairs and faced great opposition from the Irish Ambassador Sean Donlon who went to huge lengths to oppose him. The INC initiated and launched the historical Mac Bride Principles Campaign.

Former chairman of the House International Relations Committee Congressman Ben Gilman has said: “No one has done more than Father Mc Manus to keep the U.S. Congress on track regarding justice and peace in Ireland.”

Seán McManus, a Redemptorist priest, is a brother of Frank McManus, former MP, and Patrick McManus, an IRA member killed in 1958. In 1971, he was arrested in Northern Ireland during an anti-internment demonstration. His superiors sent him to the US where he founded the Irish National Caucus in 1974.

In an effort to make it more convenient for Division 87 members to receive The Brimmer each month and to save a lot of money, we have begun electronic newsletters this month.

For those without computers or email, there is no need to be alarmed. You will still be able to get your paper copies via U.S. Mail. But the Division can save a lot each month on printing and postage by reducing the number of paper copies.
